GUIDE FOR THE PROCESS OF APPLYING TO BE A GUARDIAN ADVOCATE FOR A PERSON WITH A DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITY

What is a Guardian Advocate?

Parents no longer have the legal authority to make decisions for their children after they turn 18 years of age. Guardian Advocacy is a process for family members, caregivers, or friends of individuals with a developmental disability to obtain the legal authority to act on their behalf if the person lacks the decision-making ability to do some, but not all, of the decision-making tasks necessary to care for his or her person or property. This is accomplished without having to declare the person with a developmental disability incapacitated. Guardian Advocate appointments are governed by section 393.12, Florida Statutes, as well as Chapter 744, Florida Statutes. All Florida Statutes may be viewed online at <http://www.leg.state.fl.us/statutes/>. The Florida Probate Rules are available online at: http://www.floridabar.org/TFB/TFBResources.nsf/Attachments/6C2FEF97C5969ACD85256B29004BFA12/\$FILE/Probate.pdf

Who is developmentally disabled?

Under section 393.063(12), Florida Statutes, a person with a “developmental disability” means “a disorder or syndrome that is attributable to intellectual disability, cerebral palsy, autism, spina bifida, Down syndrome, Phelan-McDermid syndrome, or Prader-Willi syndrome; that manifests before the age of 18; and that constitutes a substantial handicap that can reasonably be expected to continue indefinitely.”

What if the person with a developmental disability lacks the capacity to make any decisions?

Section 393.12(2)(a), Florida Statutes, states that a Guardian Advocate may be appointed if the person with a developmental disability lacks the decision-making ability to do some, but not all, of the decision-making tasks necessary to care for his or her person or property, or if the person has voluntarily petitioned for the appointment of a guardian advocate.

If the person lacks the capacity to make any decisions about his or her care, it may be more appropriate for the court to appoint a plenary guardian who is authorized to act on the person’s behalf in all matters. The process of appointing a plenary guardian requires the court to determine that the person is incapacitated, and the person petitioning to become a guardian must have an attorney.

What are the powers and duties of a Guardian Advocate?

A Guardian Advocate for a person with a developmental disability shall have the same powers, duties, and responsibilities required of a guardian under Chapter 744, Florida Statutes, and those defined by the judge. These powers and duties are listed in Section 744.361, Florida Statutes. They include but are not limited to: filing an initial plan and annual reports; making provisions for medical, mental health, dental and personal care of the person with a developmental disability; making residential decisions on behalf of the person with a developmental disability; advocating on behalf of the person with a developmental disability in institutional and other settings; and making financial decisions on behalf of the person with a developmental disability. A Guardian Advocate need not be the caregiver of the person with a disability.

Do I need an attorney to become a Guardian Advocate?

The process of becoming a Guardian Advocate of a person with a developmental disability does not require the hiring of an attorney. During the Guardian Advocacy proceedings, the Court will appoint an attorney for the person with a developmental disability to ensure that his or her best interests are protected. The attorney will need to meet face-to-face with the person with a developmental disability. The court shall initially appoint a private attorney who shall be selected from the attorney registry on a rotation basis. If the person with a developmental disability is deemed to be indigent, the attorney will be provided at no cost. If the person with a developmental disability is not deemed to be indigent, the attorney will charge customary fees that may be paid out of the assets of the person with a developmental disability.

If there is property involved, other than Social Security benefits or other government payee programs, the person seeking to become a Guardian Advocate of the person and the property must hire an attorney. These property rights include, but are not limited to: a pending lawsuit, estate matter, or other income or property right coming to the person with a developmental disability. The Court can expand the description of property rights by Petition and Order.

Who may serve as a Guardian Advocate?

Any resident of the State of Florida who is 18 years old and of sound mind is qualified to act as a Guardian Advocate. In addition, a non-resident may serve if he or she is related to the person with a developmental disability by blood, adoption or law according to section 744.309(2), Florida Statutes.

The court may appoint any person whom it considers fit, proper, and qualified to act as guardian whether or not that person is related to the person with a developmental disability. However, the court gives preference to a person who:

- Is related by blood or marriage to the person with a developmental disability;

- Has relevant educational, professional or business experience;
- Has the capacity to manage the finances involved; or
- Has the ability to meet the requirements of the law and the unique needs of the individual.

The court shall also consider the wishes expressed by a person with a developmental disability as to who shall be appointed guardian or the wishes of the next of kin (closest living relatives) of the person with a developmental disability if the person with a developmental disability cannot express a preference.

Who may NOT serve as a Guardian Advocate?

No person who has been convicted of a felony can be appointed to act as a Guardian Advocate. Furthermore, no person who has been judicially determined to have committed abuse, abandonment, or neglect against a child as defined in section 39.01, Florida Statutes, and section 984.03(1), (2), and (37), Florida Statutes, or who has been found guilty of, regardless of adjudication, or entered a plea of no contest to any offense prohibited under section 435.04, Florida Statutes, (level 2 screening standards) or under any similar statute of another jurisdiction can be appointed to act as a Guardian Advocate.

Additionally, a person who provides substantial services to the person with a developmental disability in a professional or business capacity, or is a creditor of the person with a developmental disability, may not be appointed Guardian Advocate and retain that previous professional or business relationship. A person may not be appointed as Guardian Advocate if he or she is an employee of any person, agency, government, or corporation that provides service to the person with a developmental disability in a professional or business capacity, except that a person so employed may be appointed if he or she is the spouse, adult child, parent, or sibling of the proposed person with a developmental disability or the court determines that the potential conflict of interest is insubstantial and that the appointment would clearly be in the best interest of the person with a developmental disability.

A provider of health care services to the person with a developmental disability, whether direct or indirect, may not be appointed the Guardian of the person with a developmental disability, unless the court specifically finds there is no conflict of interest with the best interest of the person with a developmental disability.

Do I have to submit to a criminal background and credit history investigation?

Yes. Section 744.3135(1), Florida Statutes, requires all Guardian Advocates of the person to submit to a level 2 criminal background screening and credit history investigation at their own expense.

You will need to contact Brevard County Sheriff's Office to make arrangements for the level 2 criminal background screening. Fingerprinting services are provided at each precinct as well as the Criminal Investigation Building. The public fingerprinting is conducted on various days and times depending on the precinct. Please consult the Brevard County Sheriff's website for exact times and locations (brevardsheriff.com). You will need to provide them with the ORI number assigned to Brevard County. As of November 2016, the ORI number for Brevard County is FL005064Z. The cost for fingerprinting services for a non-professional guardian is currently $10.00. The Sheriff's Office accepts cash or credit cards. Remember to bring a government issued photo ID at the time of fingerprinting.

After your fingerprints are scanned, the Sheriff's Office will give you instructions to log in to the Federal Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) website. You will be prompted to submit an additional payment to the Federal Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE). Please contact the FDLE for the exact amount, it is approximately $40.00. FDLE will send the results of the fingerprint scan to the Clerk of the Court in Brevard County.

To obtain the credit history investigation you will need to obtain a current credit report from one of the three credit bureaus (Equifax, Experian, Transunion). You may obtain a free credit report from the following websites: www.creditkarma.com and www.annualcreditreport.com. Once you have obtained your credit report you must file it in your guardian advocate case along with Form K-1.

However, section 744.3135(1), Florida Statutes, does make a provision for any interested person to file a petition to waive the level 2 background screening or credit history investigation or both. The Court may grant this petition on case-by-case basis. See Form G and form H.

Will I be required to receive instruction or training?

Yes. Each person appointed to be a Guardian Advocate must complete the required number of hours (as of 2016, eight hours) of instruction and education within four months after his or her appointment. The training must be completed through a course approved by the chief judge of the circuit court and taught by a court-approved organization. Court-approved organizations may include, but are not limited to, community or junior colleges, guardianship organizations, and the local bar association or The Florida Bar.

An Administrative Order that contains a list of approved courses for Brevard County on guardianship education is attached to this manual.

The court may, in its discretion, waive some or all of the training requirements or impose additional requirements. The court will make its decision on a case-by-case basis considering the experience and education of the Guardian Advocate, the duty assigned to the Guardian Advocate, and the needs of the person with a developmental disability.

Will I be required to file reports to the court regarding the person with a developmental disability?

A Guardian Advocate must file an Initial Report within 60 days of appointment pursuant to sections 744.362 and 744.363, Florida Statutes. The initial report must include a statement of medical, mental, or personal care services of the person with a developmental disability, and a statement of the place and kind of residential setting best suited for the needs of the person with a developmental disability. In addition, the Initial Report includes all physical and mental examinations necessary to determine the medical and mental health treatment needs of the person with a developmental disability.

In addition, a Guardian Advocate must file a report each year pursuant to sections 744.367 and 744.3675, Florida Statutes. The Annual Report must be filed at least 60 days, but no more than 90 days, before the last day of the anniversary month that the letters of guardianship were signed, and the plan must cover the coming fiscal year, ending on the last day in such anniversary month. The Annual Report must include information concerning the residence of the person with a developmental disability, the medical and mental health conditions, treatment and rehabilitation needs of the person with a developmental disability, and the social condition of the person with a developmental disability.

If a Guardian Advocate wishes to move the person with a developmental disability out of Brevard County, unless the move is to a county adjacent to Brevard County, he or she must get court approval for the change of residence pursuant to section 744.1098, Florida Statutes.

When do I file a petition to be appointed Guardian Advocate?

In order to avoid the gap between the child's 18th birthday and the appointment of a Guardian Advocate, the petition may be initiated within 180 days of the child's 18th birthday. The filing fee payable to the Clerk of the Court for the filing of the petition for appointment of Guardian Advocate of the person is $235. The petitioner is also responsible for payment of the attorney's fees for the attorney appointed to represent the person with developmentally disabilities.

The court may waive the filing fees and payment of costs of attorney's fees upon an application for determination of indigent status. (See Form F and instructions). If the person with developmental disabilities is 18 years of age, the Clerk of Court will use their income and assets to make a determination of indigent status. However, if the person with developmental disabilities is a minor, the Clerk of Court will use the petitioner's income and assets to make a determination of indigent status.

Note about becoming a Guardian Advocate for a child in DCF care:

When a minor with a developmental disability is in the care of the Department of Children and Families (DCF) and under the jurisdiction of a dependency court, state law provides for special procedures in order to avoid a gap between the child's 18th birthday and the appointment of a Guardian Advocate. DCF is required to develop an updated case plan developed with the child and other appropriate persons when the child turns 17. If the judge finds that appointment of a Guardian Advocate is appropriate, DCF must complete a multidisciplinary report and identify individuals who are willing to serve as a Guardian Advocate. Jurisdiction over children who are 17½ years old may be transferred to a guardianship court for the purpose of appointment of a Guardian Advocate. Proceedings for the appointment of a Guardian Advocate may be initiated within 180 days of the child's 18th birthday.

If another interested party initiates proceedings for the appointment of a Guardian Advocate, DCF is required to provide all necessary documentation and information to complete the petition. The child's biological or adoptive family members, including the child's parents, may not be considered as Guardian Advocates unless the court enters a written order finding that such an appointment is in the child's best interests.

Can the Petitioner request the court to appoint a Standby Guardian?

Yes, the Petitioner can request the court for the appointment of a Standby Guardian to assume their duties immediately on their death, removal, or resignation. Within 20 days after the assumption of duties, the Standby Guardian Advocate must petition for confirmation of the appointment, file their oath, and submit to a criminal history record check. You can designate the Standby Guardian Advocate by filing the Petition for Appointment of Guardian Advocate and Appointment of Standby Guardian Advocate. See Form C-1 and C-2. You will need to prepare and take to the hearing Form J-1 – Order Appointing Standby Guardian Advocate.

Can the developmentally disabled person petition for restoration of his/her rights?

Yes, the developmentally disabled person or any interested person may file a suggestion of restoration of rights and must also include the evidentiary support for the request. The suggestion must state that the person with developmental disabilities is currently capable of exercising some or all the rights given to the Guardian Advocate. See Rule 5.681 of the Florida Rules of Probate procedure for further information.
